RULE SERVED for Respondent No. 1-2

CORAM : HON'BLE MR.JUSTICE D.P.BUCH

Date of decision: 07/04/2004

ORAL JUDGEMENT

The petitioner above named has preferred this petition under Article 226 of the Constitution of India for appropriate writ, order or direction, for quashing and setting aside an order of detention dated 11/11/03 passed by respondent no.2 herein, in exercise of the powers u/s.3(2) of the Gujarat Prevention of Anti Social Activities Act, 1985 (for short, "the said Act").

2. It was alleged against the petitioner that two prohibition offences were registered against him before Navsari Prohibition Police Station at C.R.No.1631 / 2003 and 1991 / 2003 on 29/08/03 and 13/10/03 respectively for offences punishable u/s.65, 66, 81 and 116 of the Bombay Prohibition Act, 1949.

3. It was also alleged against the petitioner that two witnesses had given statements against the petitioner saying that he was engaged in bootlegging activities. On the strength of the aforesaid two registered offences and two statements of unnamed witnesses, the detaining authority found that the petitioner is required to be detained, with a view to prevent him from indulging in bootlegging activities which amounted to a threat to public order.

4. Feeling aggrieved by the said order of his detention, the petitioner has preferred this petition before this Court. It has been contended here that on a mere fact that two offences were registered, it could not be said that there was a threat to public order. It has also been contended that names of the witnesses were not supplied to the petitioner, and therefore, there was a violation of the principle of natural justice. That, therefore, the order of detention is illegal and hence, it may be quashed and set aside.

5. On receipt of the petition, Rule was issued and in response to the service of notice of Rule, Ms.P B Sheth learned AGP has appeared on behalf of the respondents. I have heard the learned advocates for the parties and have perused the papers.

6. So far the registration of offence is concerned, the ground of detention refers one offence because the second offence appears to have been committed after the receipt of proposal from the sponsoring authority. Even if we take it that two offences were registered against the petitioner, then looking to the dates of the registration of the said two offences and considering the nature of the offences and looking to the quantity of muddamal article seized from the petitioner, it can be said that the alleged bootlegging activities of the petitioner may amount to a threat to a law and order situation, but, would not amount to a threat to public order or public health. In absence of any material on record, it would be difficult to sustain the order of detention in the eye of law.

7. It is not much in dispute that the petitioner was detained in exercise of the powers u/s.3(2) of the said Act on the ground that the petitioner was a "bootlegger" and his activities amounted to a threat to public order. The learned advocate for the petitioner has contended that two offences registered under the Bombay Prohibition Act, 1949, were registered against the petitioner. That solitary stray offences registered against the petitioner could not lead to an inference that the petitioner was a "bootlegger" and that his alleged bootlegging activities raised a threat to public order.

8. The detaining authority has also considered statements of two witnesses whose names have not been disclosed. The learned advocate for the petitioner has argued that the names of the witnesses were required to be disclosed and when the names were not disclosed, the petitioner was unaware about those names and hence, the petitioner could not submit an effective representation to the detaining authority or to the State Government.

9. The learned AGP contends that u/s.9(2) of the said Act, the detaining authority has a power of privilege to withhold the names of the witnesses from the notice of the petitioner. There is no dispute about the same. At the same time, it is required to be considered that such a representation is required to be considered on appropriate material. Before a right or power of privilege is claimed u/s.9(2) of the said Act, the detaining authority has to ascertain by appropriate inquiry that there is a genuine fear or apprehension in the minds of the witnesses on account of which they apprehend fear and therefore, their names were required to be kept away from the notice of the petitioner. In the present case, we find that the records do not show that there was credible material before the detaining authority in order to withhold the names of the witnesses from the notice of the petitioner. In absence of such material on record, it cannot be said that the detaining authority was justified in withholding the names of those witnesses.

10. So, on the one hand, with respect to the registered offences, it could not be said that the illegal activities of the petitioner would lead to a threat to public order, and on the other hand, the statements of witnesses were not considered and their names were not disclosed to the petitioner which would amount to a violation of the principle of natural justice. Therefore, on these counts, the order of detention is required to be quashed and set aside.

11. For the foregoing reason, this petition is allowed. The impugned order of detention dated 11/11/03 passed by respondent no.2 against the petitioner, is ordered to be quashed and set aside. Detenu, Gulam Husen Allarakhu Zara, is ordered to be set at liberty forthwith, if no longer required in any other case. Rule is made absolute with no order as to costs. Direct service permitted.
